SELECTMEN'S REPORT

TO THE CITIZENS AND TAXPAYERS OF FARMINGTON, NEW HAMPSHIRE

In submitting our annual report for the year just ended, it is our privilege to address the citizens and taxpayers again on subjects that in our opinion vitally concern their welfare. In handling the affairs of the town which you intrusted to us we see our duty, not only in the matter of giving our best and most conscientious judgment, but in pointing out to our constituency whatever comes before us, as gained from experience. It is obvious, from close contact with the operation of various departments, that we should be able to see the weakness or strength of certain features that enter into results, which, incidentally, are expenses, either remote or immediate. And it is with this idea uppermost in mind that we shall offer herewith such recommendations as we believe to be for the common good. Moreover, we take the liberty of saying here and now that the old-fashioned conception of economy, which was nothing more or less than makeshift devices to insure immediate futures, can no longer be entertained as a good business policy, but that the new and broader conception of economy, which regards public benefits in the group, as determined by public demands, and the costs managed by foresight, is the only logical economy of today. To illustrate this, may we take the instance of our new town tractor? It is a piece of modern, heavy machinery, yet withal it stands for one of the economies of the present day, as measured by public demand. If we are to in stall such a piece of machinery and endeavor to practice old-fashioned economy by neglecting our bridges we are bound to find our miscalculation will bring expensive accidents and perhaps any number of experiences that assess disproportionate costs on the town. This is an outstanding example, but one of many that might be cited to show the reasoning mind that economy today is more emphatic of consistency and not makeshift, patched-up devices to stall off inevitable consequences. However, we have come to a point where our present equipment is nearly equal to supplying the public demand, as it is measured by the status of our community. Now it seems we can reasonably begin to curtail on appropriations for new equipment and apply the money we raise to maintaining our present system and paying on our debt. Your board of selectmen are among your taxpayers and share with their townspeople the belief that in measuring our expenses for the coming year a scale should be applied that will not increase, but rather decrease our tax rate, if possible. On the other hand, however carefully these things are surveyed, circumstances are bound to come up and assess extra costs for the taxpayers to back up. The past year, for instance, we have been called upon to defend the abandonment of our railroad, at a cost of nearly $2,000, and to purchase our tractor, at an expense of $5,450, for both of which items the town voted itself in debt by ordering us to hire the money. We further have been obliged to build a place to house the tractor at a cost of $300. The estimated cost of the new bridge on the Valley road was over run because of the very justifiable demand of the citizens living in that locality that the bridge provide a sidewalk to protect the school children and other pedestrians from automobile traffic that crosses this structure. We have installed a new boiler in the opera house, and on notification from the board of health "to do away with the old toilets in the rear of the building," new ones have been substituted at a cost of $1,133. The police department has been more expensive than formerly, and the cost of maintaining our poor and needy the past year is $1,372.23, nearly double the previous year's figures. Such items cannot be anticipated at the outset when appropriations are voted, but eventually have to be taken care of out of the money raised from taxes.

Quoting from our report last year, let us say: "If you vote to hire money you run the town in debt. If you vote unnecessary appropriations you increase your tax rate." With this in mind, let us say: We have been going along from year to year too much on the credit plan; hiring money for appropriations. Now let us pay for what we get and not get anything we do not need. We have always endeavored to pay something on the debt when the money hired for appropriations has not prevented, but this year the expense of items heretofore enumerated has put aside this purpose. Again our bridges that were not taken under special consideration at the town meeting have cost us about $4,000. The tractor, of course, has in good part made this necessary, and the condition of our bridges was one thing that prompted us to make objection to its purchase. The High street bridge collapsed and we replaced it with a new one and now have a structure that will hold ten or fifteen tons and is good for ten or twelve years. The Watson bridge went down and we had to rebuild it. Other bridges have been overhauled and new stringers put in and planked over. There remain six more bridges that must be overhauled before it will be safe for the tractor to cover the entire circuit of the town's highway system. These bridges are on the cross roads, yet the taxpayers in these outside districts desire good roads as well as the villagers and are entitled to them, as they pay their share of the costs. Our highways have been kept in very good condition, except one or two sections where they have been subjected to extremely hard usage by heavy trucking; but the old line dirt roads need constant care to keep them passable. Our trunk line highway will have to be rebuilt in some of the older places, as it is getting very rough. However, with the tractor and proper machinery it can be accomplished at about two-thirds the cost of the old-fashioned way.

In concluding, we wish to say that the foregoing expresses our opinion, as well as serving as a concise summary of the work to which we have given attention the past year and in which we have been loyally supported by the taxpayers and citizens of Farmington. Further we may allude to this foreword as the general survey of this report in which may be found the correct accounting for all items.

Respectfully submitted,

FRANK A. ADAMS,

HARRISON G. WALDRON,

FRANK E. WEBSTER,

Selectmen of Farmington.
